

Food & Beverage During Times of Uncertainty

Nothing brings people together like food. Even with social distancing, this still rings true.

- Family dinners and date nights at home will continue to be a priority.
- Restaurants big and small have adapted to this time of uncertainty by exclusively offering pickup and delivery services.
- Your audience is ready to order. Now is the time to make them aware of your wide array of menu options.

TripleLift offers many opportunities within Native, Branded Video and Display to effectively deliver your message to your target audience in ways that resonate. Partner with us to adapt your brand's strategy to fit these evolving times.

Display

The best ads are contextual, adapting to the content environment but also keeping in mind what's important to your audience right now. In these uncertain times, here are some ways you can adjust your creative elements to make them more relevant to what's happening in the world.

Best Practices

Creative

Showcase your most appetizing dishes and drinks in a home environment like a kitchen or dining room. Highlight delivery options through creatives with to-go boxes.

Copy

Use your headline and copy to inform audiences that your brand offers delivery and roadside pickup. Mention that your dishes and drinks are the best choice for family dinners and virtual hangouts.

URL

Is your brand on a food delivery site? Bring customers directly to the 'Place an Order' page. Are you offering a deal for roadside pickup orders? Send customers to your online menu.
